CAPITAL OVER 350,000 DOLLARS,
AND CONSTANTLY INCREASING.
The Charter of this Company offers more favorable advantages to the farmer and others, than any Company chartered in the State, by insuring with or without a premium note. If the applicant prefer, he can pay the full amount of the premium in cash, or by effecting a cash insurance for two years, the insured saves one-eighth of the amount he would otherwise have to pay; or by becoming a member, and giving a small premium note, the in-sured saves nearly one half of the amount charged by Stock Companies, when insuring from year to year. This is the advantage resulting from the CASH AND MUTUAL PRINCIPLE.

This Company commenced issuing Policies against loss or damage by fire, on the 13th day of March, 1854, since which time over seven thousand seven hundred persons have insured and become members of the Company, and over seventy thou sand dollars have been paid for losses. Having increased our business during the past year, we feel grateful for the liberal patronage bestowed upon the Company thus far, and for its flattering pros-pects of future usefulness. The Directors hope and believe, that, by prudence, caution, and a rigid system of economy, they will establish for this Company a reputation for cheapness and safety not surpassed by any Company in the U. States. All differences in settlement of losses, may be determined by three disinterested arbitrators of the County where such loss happened, to be mutually chosen by the insured and the Company. DIRECTORS: T. B. Robertson. James T. Close, Thomas T. Hill, W. D. Massey, R. H. Carter, P. D. Lipscomb. Wm. Wright, R. F. Lester, Silas Biglow. W. M. Turner, S. T. Stuart. A. R. Blakey.

MORPHY, THE AMERICAN CHESS PLAYER

On Tuesday evening, the 26th, the powers of this extraordinary player were put to a severe test in a match which came off at the St. James's Chess Club, Regent's Quadrant, in which Mr. Morphy played simultaneously with five of the most expert players of the club, including its President, Mr. Lowenthal. The tables were arranged in a row, each table being occupied on the one side by a player, and on the other a passage was left free along which their single antagonist might pass backwards and forwards. Mr. Morphy is a man of small stature and rather juvenile appearance, but his head is exceedingly well formed, his eye bright, and his contenance generally gives the evidence of a fine ner ous organization and quick intelligence .-He seems to play perfectly at his ease, generally making his moves with rapidity, al though sometimes stopping and seeming to give the move in hand a good deal of careful consideration. We endeavored to ascertain whether, like other great players, he had any favorite move or leading idea in his play, and there did seem to be a little uniformity in the cases in which he obtained the first move. But as this happened only in two cases out of the five, he was in the other three necessarily influenced by the opening of his opponent. Speaking generally, his style of play seems to be rapid and impetuous, and his coup d'æil so perfect that he can master at one glance all the exigencies of the board. More than once in the course of the play his opponent had to call for time, which he conceded with the most goodhumored courtesy, chatting in the interim with whoever chanced to stand near him .--The great secret of his success, over and would appear to lie in the wonderful power and tenacity of his memory. We have seen men who could balance ten dinner plates, or ride six horses at once, but in those cases the act was at best imperfectly done. Mr. Morphy's case is different. He plays the most abstruse reflective of known games, and plays it with a given number of the best known players, and the only advantage he has is the prestige of his wonderful name, which certainly had considerable effect in producing caution on the part of all his opgant and capacious smoking room of the St. James's Restaurant, and all the players to whom Mr. Morphy was opposed worshipped the fulginous genius of the place. We observed, however, that he did not smoke .an important fact for the advocates of the counterblast, If any one required a particularly clear head it would be a man who, single-handed, undertook to play chess against five of the best players in London, and Mr. Morphy, although an American, would appear to deny himself his cigar in order to secure the necessary amount of cerebral

Incidity. first table, M. de Riviere; second, Mr. S. Boden; third Mr. W. Barnes; fourth, Mr. Bird; fifth, Mr. Lowenthal. The play commenced at six o'clock, and was kept up with great spirit till a late hour of the night The following was the result: The game at the first table was won by Mr. Morphy; at the second, the game was drawn; at the third it was won by Mr. Barnes; at the fourth by Mr. Morphy; at the fifth it was drawn .-
